PLUCKERS ANONYMOUS

You know you need help when your own eyebrow person sends you home for a plucking time-out. That's what Rashida B's Eyebrow Bootcamp is all about. The owner of The B Spot created this 12-week program specifically for women who can't be left alone with their tweezers. "I'm like 911 for too-thin brows," she says, adding that Bootcamp helps women survive the oft-miserable growing-in process, offering a consultation followed by six shaping and styling sessions every two weeks. She'll help you through any relapses, and at the final session, you'll be rewarded with tinting, a grooming kit (including powder, gel and a brush) and, most importantly, the perfect set of eyebrows. $175.
